St.Helens Council

JOB VACANCY

Advanced Public Health Practitioner

Job Reference: SPH7
Department: Integrated Health & Social Care Services Directorate
Permanent Contract
Hours Worked: 37 hours per week
Salary: From £45,495 per annum - £48,587 per annum
Closing date: 20/03/2023

About Us

We are St Helens Borough Council located in the heart of the Northwest close to Liverpool, Manchester, and Lancashire. St Helens is a transformational Council which is passionate and ambitious for the communities we support.

We provide a wide range of local authority services to the residents, businesses, schools, and visitors to the borough. We can only do this because of our highly valued, highly skilled workforce. Working together, our workplace vision and values guide our organisation, and the contribution of our workforce is key to our culture journey.

Employees with us receive a wide range of benefits including well-being in work, financial benefits, ways of working and learning and development support. Making a difference as an Advanced Public Health Practitioner in the Children's integrated Commissioning team.

Job Overview

An exciting development opportunity has become available for an ambitious public health practitioner looking to take the next step to develop their career and make a difference to children and young people's public health.

We are looking for a passionate, highly motivated and innovative public health practitioner, and we would welcome and encourage applications from specialist children's public health nurses, such as health visitors and school nurses. We recognise and value your specialist training, knowledge and insights in children's health and wellbeing, therefore this is a unique opportunity to be supported to develop new and rewarding skills in commissioning, strategy development, partnership working and leadership.

You will join a small but established children's integrated commissioning team which includes NHS and Local Authority children's commissioners each with their own lead programme areas. As the lead for children's public health, you will lead on the design, implementation, and monitoring of the 0-19/25 Healthy Child Programme in St. Helen's, working closely with the well-respected local Public Health team.

You will also provide strategic leadership and advocacy to influence health and wellbeing outcomes for children, young people and their families through collaborative partnership working. In return, you will be supported and encouraged to develop and achieve your career aspirations, with regular supervision from knowledgeable and experienced senior NHS Commissioners and Public Health leads. Mentoring and coaching is also available, with ongoing continuous professional development to help you fulfil your role and personal development plan objectives.

Equality and Diversity

St Helens Council respects and values the individuality that every employee brings. We encourage applicants from diverse backgrounds, who share our values, our commitment to inclusion, and who will help us on our journey to transform our organisation. Further information about Equality & Diversity at St Helens Council can be found here https://www.sthelens.gov.uk/equality

St Helens Council is a Disability Confident Employer. Disability Confident Employers lead the way in helping to take action that changes attitudes, behaviours, and cultures for the better. NOLAN Principles of Conduct in Public Life. All Council employees are required to abide by the ethical standards embodied by the 7 Nolan Principles: Selflessness, Integrity, Objectivity, Accountability, Openness, Honesty, and Leadership.

Interested to find out more? You are welcome to contact us for a chat before applying by emailing us at suzanne.rimmer@sthelensccg.nhs.uk or ShirleyGoodhew@sthelens.gov.uk

For an application form and further details, please visit www.sthelens.gov.uk/jobs